Social Media Guidelines – by the College of Occupational Therapists of Ontario

Whether on a personal or professional social media site, make it a habit to use the principle, Pause Before You Post, Reflect Before You Click. In social media, only post comments and photos that you are willing to make public. Before you save, send or post a comment, ask yourself, "Would I want this information printed in a newspaper, plastered on a billboard or broadcast on TV?" If the answer is no, reword the comment or don't post it at all. Similarly, before posting a photo or video, ask yourself, "Is this susceptible to misrepresentation or manipulation?" If the answer is yes, refrain from posting it. With social media, it's better to err on the side of caution. Read more on the attached guidelines from COTO.
